LLOYD
LIBRARY & MUSEUM

As the term of our new Artist-in-Residence, Madeleine Hordinski, kicks off this month, we'd like to draw special attention to our Fellowships and Artist-in-Residence programs. Recipients of Curtis Gates Lloyd Fellowships and Artists-in-Residence hail from around the country and represent a variety of institutional experiences and personal insights. They make discoveries from Lloyd collections and forge connections between disciplines like science, art, and history. Learn more here.

Pick Your Poison Programs Have Sold Out

Our Pick Your Poison program schedule will wrap up with sold-out programs featuring Eric Tepe of the University of Cincinnati and Barney Lipscomb of the Botanical Research Institute of Texas. We have a new program schedule just around the corner to tie in with our upcoming exhibition, The Lore of the Pawpaw, part of the multi-venue FotoFocus biennial. To get an advance peek, check out our event calendar, follow us on Facebook and Instagram, and when you support the Lloyd, Members hear first!

Lessons in the Jardin du Roi

When: September 18, 7-8 p.m.
Where: Virtual lecture

Join art historian Lauren Cannady as she shares her research on the creation and circulation of botanical knowledge in early modern European gardens. While a 2024 Curtis Gates Lloyd Fellow, she came across a manuscript in the Lloyd's collection apparently made on-site at the Jardin du Roi in Paris during the summer of 1708 by a student attending Joseph Pitton de Tournefort's botanical lectures. Cannady's research opens a window into early modern empirical practices, botanical scholarship, and knowledge networks. Registration required.

2025 Fellowship and Artist-in-Residence Applications Now Open

The Lloyd is accepting applications for the 2025 Curtis Gates Lloyd Fellowship and Artists-in-Residency. Annually, the Lloyd provides stipends for research at the Lloyd Library on the topics of botany, natural history, and the history of science, medicine, and pharmacy. The research results in projects that bring wider awareness and original perspectives to the history and use of plants and nature.
Applications are due November 1, 2024

The Lloyd will be closed Monday, September 2, in observance of Labor Day
